LOCKS & LATCHES

A close-up photograph of a door lock mechanism. A brass-colored metal piece, likely a latch or strike plate, is shown in the foreground, partially obscuring the lock body. The lock body is dark grey or black with a textured finish. A brass-colored bolt is visible through a rectangular opening in the lock body. Two screws are visible on the lock body: one near the top and one near the bottom. The background is blurred, showing what appears to be a wooden door frame.

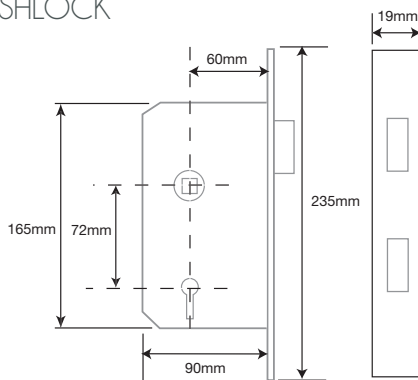

locks and latches for both mortice and rim applications of both architectural and budget quality.

Like all metal based products ironmongery requires regular cleaning to prevent deposits from accumulating and damaging the items appearance. The following instructions will enable you to prolong the lifetime of the finish on these products.

PLATED FINISHES

Occasional wiping with a soft cloth and cleaning with a non abrasive wax polish

POLISHED AND LACQUERED FINISHES.

Clean with a damp clean cloth moistened with soapy water or wipe with a soft cloth with a non abrasive wax polish

It should be noted that the life of lacquer on most items is limited and will eventually break down. Adverse conditions such as industrial pollution, sea air, acid rain, abrasives etc and repeated continual handling may cause the coating to deteriorate prematurely.

BLACK & PEWTER FURNITURE

Iron is vulnerable to rusting and whilst we make every effort to cover all areas of our products to avoid rusting it is essential to maintain these items , especially in external situations, to try and prevent rusting . It is recommended to give items an occasional light oiling. This can be done by wiping the items with a lightly oiled cloth to help prevent a build up of harmful deposits which will cause corrosion.

STAINLESS STEEL

Whilst stainless steel is a strong durable material, it will , if not maintained regularly, show signs of rusting .

It is therefore recommended that you carry out the following cleaning regime.

Clean regularly with a dry cloth or duster

Periodic washing with warm soapy water and dried with a clean cloth.

Wipe occasionally with a good quality silicone wax polish

APPLIED FINISHES

Finishes such as bronze , rustic , tin and black nickel are what is known as an applied finish, these can be cleaned as polished and lacquered finishes. This type of finish will vary in colour between batches.

IT SHOULD BE NOTED HOWEVER THAT THESE FINISHES WILL WEAR OVER TIME.

ALL FINISHES

Under no circumstances should you clean these products with: ABRASIVE CLEANERS OR ACID BASED PRODUCTS
